VORYS SUMMONED TO CONSULT TAFT

Ohio Leader Will Thresh Chairmanship Question.

HITCHCOCK CHOICE OF REPUBLICANS

He Understands Slated Changes and Is Willing to Work for Party Success.

Although the problem of who will be chairman of the Republican National Committee has developed into the prizeguessing contest of the age, the de-velopments today indicate that Frank H. Hitchcock still has the best chance to get the job.

This is, in part, substantiated by the fact that the trio of Vorys' men, who vesterday argued with Secretary Taft that Vorys should have the place, received absolutely no encouragement from the Secretary. He refused to give them any intimation whatever as to his intentions in the matter. They admitted this after the conference. Tomorrow, however, Taft will sup plement his conference with Hitchcock by a consultation with Vorys himself, who has been summoned here from

His Help Wanted.

Another fact that came to light to-day, as indicative of the regard Taft by this trial." and his friends have for Hitchcock as a political strategist, is that, even if conditions should so frame themselves up as to make Hitchcock impossible for the chairmanship, his aid in wag-ing the campaign will be enlisted. This statement was made by several men who are in a position to know now the fight will be waged throughout the

Departs Fraggerated.

Reports Exaggerated.

Friends of Hitchcock pointed out to-day that the reports of the party discontent in Ohio in case Hitchcock should be selected have been exagger ated greatly, and that, as a matter of fact, the party would get together upon the settlement of the disputed matter.

The statement has also been advanced in many quarters that the Vorys folowers do not believe their man can get the job, and their main object is to Hitchcock forged to the front as the Taft manager in the East, the Ohio men have not regarded him with any

In spite of all the conflicting reports, which are as numerous as politicians, one fact stands out clear and strong, that, if Taft can see his way to it, he will choose Hitchcock.

General Wright Begins

If Gen. Luke E. Wright maintains the pace he is setting already at the Var Department, his administration of that office will be a "hummer," The Secretary of War-to-be was at the department shortly after 9 o'clock this morning pouring over a mass of of-icial papers.

"I must get familiar with this work as soon as possible," said General Wright. "Although I do not look forward to it with very much pleasure, I presume that I will find it necessary to spend most of the summer here. Of pourse, I am familiar with the conditions prevailing in the Philippines, but there is a mass of departmental work which I will have to master in order, as you might say, to make good."

For the present, General Wright will live at Fort Myer, where he is the guest of General and Mrs. Bell. Mrs. Wright will not come to Washington until the latter part of September.

Presidential Candidate and Chamber of Commerce Members Seek Growth of Industry.

> To ascertain what the business mer of Washington are buying abroad that might be manufactured in Washington, and to find out if the quantities consumed justify the erection of such factories, a canvass of business houses will be begun this week by A. C. Moses and Secretary Grant, of the Chamber of Com-

The idea, originating with Mr. Moses, is born of the belief that the merchants of Washington are purchasing elsewhere a number of articles that might just as well be manufactured and ought at home.

Therefore, under the auspices of the hamber of Commerce, it is proposed to Chamber of Commerce, it is proposed to make a store-to-store canvass, and obtain from every merchant figures indicating the quantity of food, clothing, and other commodities supplied to the local trade by that individual merchant. In the end those figures are to be tabulated, and although the matter is now in a prospective state, should the tabulation show that Washingtonians use a sufficient quantity of certain articles to justify home production, an effort will follow to produce that article in the

"The only possible objection to the marriage was that neither the boy nor girl was old enough to get married. But they did get married, so what is to be done? My first knowledge of it was when Miss Savin presented me with the marriage certificate. I must confess that I was so a dounted and overcome with the absurdity of the situation that I laughed. For the present my son and his wife will remain at my home, but I do not think they have made any plans for the immediate future."
